

The National Brokerage Network

Approved Trainers | OCN Accredited

Open access license Using National Brokerage Network materials

We want individuals who are committed to the personalisation of services and the extension of choice and control through self-directed support to use the information provided on this Website on an open access basis.

As the publisher of the information included on this Website the National Brokerage Network wants you to be able to use the content, tell others and copy to others electronically without charge providing you agree to the following:

Downloading and distributing materials

You are welcome to download, save, or distribute materials - electronically or on paper - without written permission providing that:

You credit the National Brokerage Network

You use this phrase to credit the National Brokers Network: 'This guide/ or paper/ or document/ or presentation/ etc. was produced by the National Brokerage Network – www.nationalbrokeragenetwork.org.uk and the text is not altered.

Adapting materials

Local authorities and others setting up or promoting a system of Self- Directed Support may also adapt the materials to fit local situations. You can do this without written permission providing that:

You credit the National Brokerage Network

You use this phrase to credit the National Brokerage Network: 'In producing this guide/ or paper/ or document/ or presentation/ etc, [ANYSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL] acknowledges its adaptation of materials produced by the National Brokerage Network.

By downloading, distributing or adapting the National Brokerage Network published material, you are agreeing to these conditions.